NOTHING LIKE LEATHER.

In early days our fathers wore
Their home made buckskin breeches.
Cut out by guess work measurement,
With leather whangs for stitches.
And now their sons are called again
To rally 'neath the banner
Borne by these men of leather craft,
The cobbler and the tanner.
The north and south, the east and west,
Will work and sing together,
And march to glorious victory—
For nothing wears like leather.

We have some jobs on mongrel pelts,
And have the hands to do them;
Our Grant will neatly curry them,
And Wilson wax it to them?
The chopper up to Chappaqua
May go on with his planning;
We'll let him furnish all the bark,
But Grant will do the tanning!
The thin skinned chap will uppers make,
The tough old hides the nether;
The bolting, sore-head crowd will do
For nothing but split leather!

The "later Franklin," statesman, sage,
Philosopher and farmer,
Retired in cool and rural shades,
As days grow long and warmer,
Can milk the gentle butternut,
That grazes round with bell on!
And pan out butter sweet for Gratz
To spread his watermelon;
Or he can seize his ready pen,
In stormy, rainy weather,
And tell the world how snoe pegs grow,
Or modes of smelting leather!

To spoil so fine a husbandman,
Who, perched up in the city,
Writes quires of what he never knew,
It surely were a pity.
No! let him breed the short horn duck,
And Poland China gobbler—
We'll burden with the cares of state,
The tanner and the cobbler;
The grand array of commonwealths
They'll bind as with a tether,
That ne'er again shall broken be—
For nothing holds like leather!

The virtues, brains and honesty,
Of Horace they poke at us:
As if the Cincinnati fraud
Made him a Cincinnatus!
And while he seeks a season brief
Of rural peace and quiet,
Pure water is his only drink,
Pure dirt his only diet!
His old white hat and old white coat
Have served all kinds of weather;
But they are like his principles—
They will not wear like leather!

The squad that sought old Chappaqua,
To marshal 'neath his pennon,
Will be surprised to meet our flag.
And find there is a Hen o
That flag is borne by gallant hands
Four million votes behind it;
Alas! where is the magnet hope?
"Go west"—they cannot find it!
Like Grant when in the Wilderness
We'll push in spite of weather,
And "on this line we'll fight it out;"
There nothing is like leather!

Then, Freedom's temple, rear it high!
And if we need a capstone,
Or key to bind a broken arch,
Take Henry Wilson's lapstone;
To guard it we must have a man
Who never halt nor misses;
We've many soldiers, tried and true—
None better than Ulysses!
The tanner and the cobbler are
The men to work together;
They'll win the field and keep it too—
For nothing holds like leather.

INSANITY.

Questions relating to insanity and the treatment of the insane, are now exciting much interest. A few days since, the ceremony of laying the corner stone of the new insane asylum at Buffalo occurred. Gov. Hoffman was present and made a few remarks and Hon. Jos. O. Putnam delivered the occasional address. We extract the following from the remarks of Mr. P.:

The number of insane in the United States is greates than in any other country except, perhaps, England. It is about one to a thousand of our people, and some statistics give it as one in seven hundred and twenty-eight. Comparative statistics of the disease in different countries demonstrate that insanity is a part of the price we pay for our Western civilization. It is comparatively unknown in the east. The immobility of the Oriental people, their systems of caste which forces every generation to trundle its monotonous life in ancestral grooves, lead to an individual and national calm, the complete contrast of our ceaseless agitation. It is a disease provoked by causes which powerfully affect the nervous organization. Contemplate for a moment our American life. The business of the country is an Atlantic of storm, which scarce knows repose. We buy, we sell, we tear down, we build up; we put girdles around the globe, as if our time were but an hour and eternal destiny hung upon these material issues. With our rapid successes, which will try the brain of the stoutest, and our as sudden reverses, toppling in a day the stateliest pile that energy and opportunity can rear, what must be the wear and tear of that central force which is at once the driving wheel and motive power of our business activity—the nervous system? The Cretans designated their good days with a white mark. It was reserved for us to invent Black Fridays. Every secular day in the year is black for somebody. Every day of the year somebody's brain reels.

Splendid as is our civilization, insanity and intemperance its foremost proximate cause are its dark shadows which follow its march with ever deepening gloom, wherever it goes. They appear at our fireside, at our altars, and in our most sacred seats, like the skeletons at the Egyptian feasts, as if to mock us. These features of our western life impose peculiar obligations.

Man is the creature of society. It envelops him as an atmosphere, and he cannot escape its mutalities and responsibilities. No man liveth to himself, and no man dieth to himself. We are bound together in this community life, and not a member of the vast confraternity can be diseased and the whole body not suffer. We take our civilization cum onere, and our society with all its obligations. These obligations toward those disabled by disease do not begin and end with the actual insane. Insanity has a large kindred. Statistics reveal the fact that a considerable percentage of our insane become such through intemperance, while multitudes from the same cause become as useless to themselves and the public as if they had reached the last stages of dementia. Among the latter discoveries of medical science is the fact that habitual inebriety is a disease, sometimes brought on by indulgence without hereditary tendencies. Once established to be a disease which palsies the will and leaves its victim hopeless in the hands of its foe, and further established that, except in cases of confirmed drunkenness, it is in a majority of instances a curable disease, and further established that inebriate asylums wisely administered meet all the conditions for restoration in cases seasonably committed to their care, it follows that such institutions are a necessity and should be provided.

I know no reason, where the conditions I have named obtain, which justifies the founding of institutions for the insane which is not equally applicable for the institutions for the restoration of inebriates. If inebriety leads to insanity or any other form of destructive disease, why should the public interest not rise to the exigency?

Do we say the evils to the victims of intemperance are divine judgments, and society should not interfere to break their force? That principle would empty every almshouse and asylum of a large portion of their occupants.

THE VARIETIES OF YANKEES.

"We talk about a Yankee, a New Englander" he said—as if all of 'em were just the same kind of animal. 'There is a knowledge and a knowledge,' said John Banyan. There are Yankees and Yankees.

Do you know two native trees called pitch pine and white pine respectively? Of course you know 'em. Well, there are pitch pine Yankees and white pine Yankees. We don't talk about the inherited difference of men quite as freely, perhaps, as they do in the Old world, but republicanism does n't alter the laws of physiology. We have a native aristocracy, a superior race, just as plainly marked by nature as of a higher and finer grade than the common run of people as the white pine is marked in its form, its stature, its bark, its delicate foliage, as belonging to the nobility of the forest; and the pitch pine, stunted, rough, course haired, as of the plebeian order. Only the strange thing is to see in what a capricious way our natural nobility is distributed. The first born nobleman I saw was only this morning; he was pulling a rope that was fastened to a Maine schooner loaded with lumber. I should say he was about 20 years old, as fine a figure of a young man as you would like to see and with a regular Greek outline of countenance, waving hair, that fell as if a sculptor had massed it to copy, and a complection as rich as a red sunset. I have a notion that the state of Maine breeds the natural nobility in a larger proportion than some other states, but they spring up in all sort of out-of-the-way places. The young fellow I saw this morning had on an old flannel shirt and a pair of pantaloons that meant hard work and a cheap cloth cap pushed back on his head so as to let the large waves of his hair straggle out over his forehead; he was tugging at his rope with the other sailors, but upon my word I don't think I have seen a young English nobleman of all those whom I have looked upon that answered to the nation of blood so well this young fellow did. I suppose that if I made such a leveling confession as this in public, people would think I was looking to be the labor reform candidate for president. But I should go on and spoil my prospects by saying that I don't think the white pine Yankee is the more generally prevailing growth but rather the pitch-pine Yankee."—O. W. Holmes, in the Atlantic.

A New York letter writer says the movement to throw Greeley overboard as a sort of Jonah, for the salvation of the democratic ship, is gaining adherents daily. The late elections have shown conclusively that his name, which was expected to be a tower strength, is utterly valueless, and the fatal mistake of his nomination is vigorously denounced. There is no "triumph in the air," but plenty of discord, and even Greeley's withdrawal now could not head it. After his inevitable defeat in November—if he continues on the ticket—the demoralization of the party will probably culminate in its dissolution, and efforts may then be in order for the organization of a new party, with some title to public respect.

Bulwer says that 'poverty is only an idea.' It's a very bad idea.

RULES FOR RAILROAD TRAVELERS

From the 'Fat Contributors' Saturday night

Always attend to checking yourself. If you feel like swearing at the baggage master, check yourself. If you haven't a trunk full of clean cloths to check, you at least should be adequate to a check shirt.

When you vacate a seat for a moment leave a plug hat in the seat. Some one will come along and sit down on it, thereby preventing your hat from being stolen.

Have just the change ready for the conductor. Any conductor, who properly understands his duty to himself and family, had rather have the change than a ticket. It has been decided by law that a conductor is not obliged to make change, although that is often all he can make.

Passengers cannot lay over for another train without making arrangements with the conductor. If a man has been on the "train" for a week or so, no conductor should allow him to lay over for another.

Ladies without escort in traveling should be very particular with whom they become acquainted. They needn't be so particular with whom they are unacquainted.

If you have been of service to a lady you are not entitled to after recognition unless she agrees to it.

Keep your head and arms inside the car windows if you would keep your head and "carry arms."

Never talk loudly while the train is in motion—it hurts your lungs and disconcerts the engineer.

Never talk on politics. It encourages some "nimshi" to take a vote of the passengers.

No gentleman will occupy more than one seat at a time unless he belongs to the twin order.

A gentleman should not spit tobacco juice in the cars where there are ladies. He can let drive out of the car window while the train is at the station, if the platform is crowded.

Always show your tickets whenever the conductor asks for it. If you get out of humor about it, don't show it.

Never smoke in the car where there are ladies. Get the conductor to turn the ladies out before lighting your cigar.

Never use profane language in the car. Go out on the platform. Profanity is never thrown away on a brakeman.

If you cannot sleep, do not disturb the "sleepers."

Look our for pickpockets; they are never in the car, you know, so you have to look out for them.

Provide yourself with sleeping berths before starting. No careful man will start on a journey without a good supply of sleeping berths. (N. B.—Those put up in flat bottles are the best as they are easily carried in the pocket.)

Always be at the railroad station in good time for the train. Better be an hour too early than a minute too late, unless you are on your way to be hung.

THE ENGLISH COAL FAMINE.

A writer in the London Financier, who has been making a tour of the large coal producing counties in England, gives a gloomy account of the business prospect. The collieries, he said, were full of orders and contracts, many of them old ones and at low prices, while the men were everywhere more inclined for recreation than for work. In fact they seemed to manage matters so well that where they know their masters have pressing contracts they take care that they are kept in arrears. Under such circumstances there is not a colliery proprietor who will enter into any new contracts, even at the present enhanced prices, and it is the opinion of the correspondent that the time is rapidly approaching when a great many industrial establishments will be stopped for want of coal. In many instances it has ceased to be a question of price. In some localities coal is not to be had in quantities at any figure, and often, when a manufacturer wants one or two hundred tons a week from a colliery, it is only as a great favor, and because he has been a good customer for many years, that twenty or fifty tons are given him. As to taking any new customers, even if they come with cash in hand, no coal proprietor thinks of looking at them. This is about the real state of things in all the coal districts of England, and it is reported also of Scotland.

THE FUNERAL OF A SLAVE.

The following touching account of the death of a Circassin slave is from the Levant Times of the 12th inst. A melancholy episode of harem life terminated last night in the death of a beautiful Circassian slave, with symptoms of poisoning. She had been purchased some time ago for the sum of £700 by a wealthy Musselman of high rank, a man well advanced in life, who has one legal wife and a number of concubines, but no children. She became the favorite of her master, who was much distressed some days ago at her falling seriously ill; her malady being characterized by thorough prostration of the system. He had her removed to the house of one of his dependents near his yall on the Bosphorus, giving instructions that medical aid should be procured and no pains or expense spared to restore the sufferer to health. The way in which the person to whom the precious charge was intrusted fulfilled these instructions, was to send for a medical man and drive a bargain with him at the rate of twenty piastres a visit, medicines to be included. It is stated, and is very probably true, that the practitioner did not pay a second visit. A 'wise woman' was then called in, and wrote some talismanic words on a scrap of paper. The patient was visited daily by a number of her fellow slaves from the harem, who displayed much compasion for her and a respect indicative of the high place she occupied in her master's affections. For six days she neither ate nor drank anything, and she remained in a comatose state, apparently paralyzed, until last night, when she expired—the victim, probably, of jealousy or of some harem intrigue.

QUOTED IN FULL.

You have doubtless heard the story of the Chinaman who, in making a pair of breeches for the American Captain, with an old pair for a pattern, followed his copy so literally as to reproduce a stiched rent and two patches. But the ludicrousness of the following was entirely thrown in the shade by the mistake of an honest, literal servant who had taken the job of the finishing stone work of a new church in Briersport. The presiding clergyman of the parish was chairman of the committee on ornamentation, and it was decided that a suitable quotation of Holy Writ should be graven upon the cap-stone of the main entrance. In accordance therewith the workman was directed to carve the sentence,—"My House shall be called the House of Prayer." The man acknowledged his literary deficiences, and in order that he might make no mistake, he asked for an exact copy of what was wanted. The clergyman, being in some what of a hurry, and having a small pocket Testament with him, took it out, and opening to the twenty first chapter of Matthew, and pointing to the thirteenth verse, he said.—

"There, my man, you have it just as we want it."

The craftsman took the book, and the clergyman went his way.

The dedication of the church was postponed a week to await the finishing of the cap-stone. It was done in time, and raised of its place, and the consternation of the good minister, and his companions of the committee, can be better imagined than described upon beholding how literally with a vengence the workman had copied the text of Scripture. Commencing at the point designated by the clergyman, he had reproduced the whole verse, so that the stone bore upon its face the startling sentence:

"My House shall be called the House of Prayer: but ye have made it a Den of Thieves!"

There was a further postponement of the dedicatory services, and in the end the lower half of the cap-stone was adorned with a network of chisellings and clippings not contemplated by the original plan.—N. Y. Ledger.

A fellow who has been shaved in China says that his barber first stropped the razor on his leg, and then did the shaving without any lather. The customer remonstrated, but was told that the lather was useless, and had a tendency to make the hair stiff and rough, and was, therefore, never used by persons who had any knowledge of the face and its appendages.

After the beard had been taken off—and it was done in a very short time—the barber took a long, sharp, needle-shaped spoon, and began to explore his customer's ears. He brought up from numerous little crevices bits of wax and dirt, that had been accumulating since his childhood. The barber suddenly twisted his subject's neck to one side in such a manner that it cracked as if the vertebræ had been dislocated.

"Hold on!" shouted the party, alarmed for the safety of his neck.

"All right,' replied the tonsor, "me no hurt you," and he continued to jerk and twist the neck until it was as limber as an old woman's dish-rag. He then fell to beating the back, breast and sides with his fists, and then he pummeled the muscles until they fairly glowed with the beating they received. He then dashed a bucket of cold water over his man, dried the skin with towels, and declared that his work was done. Price, two cents.

One of the points made by Mr. Arnett in his address at the fair grounds, on Thursday last against the democratic party, was this:

"Ask us, the colored voters of the United States, to vote the democratic party back into power,—that party that lived and flourished on the unpaid labor of four millions of people, that party that had no regard for the sacred ties of marriage, that for paltry gold separated husband and wife, parents and children, brother and sister,—that party that sold to the market the virtue of woman to the highest bidder. That party ask us for our votes, before we have done hunting up our kindred, scattered by them over this broad land. We will never give them our votes, no never."

GREELEY'S PARTNERSHIP WITH TWEED.

[From the N Y Times.]

It is now a week since we published the astounding history or Mr. Greeley's attempted black-mailing of the Tobacco manufacturers' association. During that time, no contradiction, no explanation, or excuse has been offered. The facts we alleged, therefore, must stand admitted as we knew they must, for a judicial record is not easily disposed of by a flippant assertion that, like Doolittle's corruption, it was an "error of judgment and taste.

It is well, then, to again recall these admitted facts.

First—Mr. Greeley subscribed for five thousand dollars of the stock of the company, for which he never paid a cent, but for which he never expected to pay a cent. He put his name down as a decoy to induce others to pay their money, and he succeeded.

Second—He consented to be and acted as a trustee of the company with Tweed and Sands.

Third—when things appeared not to be going so prosperously as he had hoped, though the company was perfectly solvent, he and Tweed entered into a scheme in connection with the ring attorney general, Gratz Nathan and W. O. Bartlett, well known ring lawyers, to compel the association to buy Tweed and Greeley off, under threats, in case they refused, of putting them into the hands of a receiver to be appointed by Cardozo.

Fourth—Tweed having sold out, Greeley unblushingly told them they must settle with Yeaton or they would have trouble. He did this though Yeaton was applied to, in order to see on what terms they could settle, the company found that they were required to pay Greeley par for his stock, for which he had not paid a cent.

Fifth—Within a week after they refused to pay Greeley, Cardozo decided to appoint a receiver upon a motion which he had kept under advisement—that is, waiting for Greeley and Gratz to tell him when to decide it—for nearly three months.

Sixth—Only an accident and the strength of the reform movement prevented Greeley from ruining the company.

Is this the kind of "Old Honesty" that the people want for President? We do not wonder that some of the stockholders, who subscribed upon the faith of Greeley's name, are meditating proceedings to compel him to pay up.

DON'T GIVE IT UP.—One of our citizens is blessed, or otherwise, with a very stubborn wife. In this case, he finds that when a woman will, she will, you may depend on't, and when she won't, she won't, and that's an end on't. This peculiarity of disposition in his wife is no secret among his associates, and one of them meeting him the other day, asked:

"Well, ——, do you know why you are like a donkey?"

"Like a donkey?" echoed W——, opening his eyes wide. 'No I don't.'

'Do you give it up?'

'I do.

'Because your better-half is stubbornness itself.'

'That's not bad. Ha! ha! I'll give that to my wife when I go home.

'Mrs. W——,' he asked, as he sat down to supper, 'do you know why I am like a donkey?'

He waited a moment, expecting his wife to give it up, but she didn't; she looked at him somewhat commiseratingly as she answered:

'I guess it's because you were born so.'

W—— has abjured the habit of putting conundrums to his wife.—Lawrence (Mass.) American.

Sometime ago there lived a gentleman of indolent habits in Sussex, who who made it a business, in the winter season, of visiting his friends extensively. After wearing out his welcome in his own immediate vicinity last winter, he thought he would visit a wealthy Quaker friend, some twenty miles distant, one who had been a school fellow of his. On his arrival he was cordially received by the Quaker, he thinking his visitor had taken much pains to come so far to see him. He treated his friend with great attention and politeness for several days, and as he did not see any signs of leaving, he became uneasy, but he bore it with patience till the morning of the eighth day, when he said to him:

"My friend, I am afraid thee will never visit me again."

"Oh, yes. I shall," said the visitor, "I have enjoyed my visit very much; I shall certainly come again."

"Nay," said the Quaker, "I think thee will not visit me again."

"What makes you think I will not come again?" asked the visitor.

"If thee does never leave," said the Quaker, "how canst thee come again?"

The production of iron has doubled within the past sixteen years. In 1856 the total production was 7,000,000 tons; in 1872, 14,000,000 tons. In 1856 the average consumption of iron in the world was about seventeen pounds a head; in 1872 it was thirty pounds a head. In 1856, in Great Britain, the consumption per head was 144 pounds; in 1872 the consumption in Great Britian was 200 pounds per head; in the United States 150 pounds per head. The consumption of iron has been considered by politico-scientists an indication of the social progress of a people. If this be so the United States is rapidly assuming the most advanced position socially of any nation on the globe.

The followihg new definition is given for the forthcoming edition of Webster's unbridged: "Tomahawk—an agricultural implement chiefly used for raising hair."

Vice President.....HENRY WILSON.

Ever since we have been in public life the fact has ever been concealed that we have a decided partiality to the cause of temperance. We expect to continue in that belief and practice, and if mistakes are made, to which all are liable—except a few—why we shall have to ask forgiveness and try to do better. The purpose in referring to this matter at present, is, to protest against the manner in which the noble and Godlike cause of temperance has been presented at and previous to the election which has just transpired, and that, too, by those who have a name not only as friends of sobriety, but present themselves as bright and shining lights in the church. Loyola, a man who lived many years ago, has been denounced times without number as inculcating the doctrine, that the end justifies the means. That is, work for and carry out your object, by any measures, fair or foul. From all the representations we have had, and they are not few nor are they obscure, the attempt to mix politics and temperance this time has been, in one of the most notable cases, a miserable failure. We are for prohibition all the way through, even to the most radical extent, but when parties disgrace the cause of temprance by the use of such means as the last few weeks have developed, no protest and condemnation can be too strong to denounce them in terms the most scathing and exhaustive. Whether Richard Brown, the Greeley candidate for congress, knew it or not, unless there is a mountain of falsehood concerning the way in which the campaign was managed, many thousands of his dollars went to the grogshops in order to purchase votes for his election. Common rumor sometimes lies hugely, but in this case there is too much ground for believing that there is no mistake about this matter. Mr. Brown, for whom all who know him express the highest respect as a citizen and exemplary man, is a leading and active member of the Methodist church at Youngstown, and it is his glorious privilege to be such. He is also represented at being a member of some temperance order, such as the Sons of Temperance, Good Templars, Temple of Honor, or something of this sort—possibly he may belong to all these orders. In addition to the obligations these associations & the church impose, we understand that Mr. B. was a member of the prohibition national convention, which met at Columbus in 1869—also, of the state prohibition convention, which was formed February last. He was appointed chairman of the executive committee by the last named body, and now holds that position, unless recently recalled or he has resigned. The second article in the platform of the national convention declares "that the traffic in intoxicating beverages is a dishonor to Christian civilization, inimical to the best interests of society, a political wrong of unqualified enormity, subversive of the ordinary objects of government." &c. &c Does Mr. B. live up to the requirements and the sentiments here expressed?

Being a member of the church he is enjoined and exhorted to lead a holy, pious and blameless life; and in addition to his temperance vows he has promised in words as binding as a most solemn oath, so regarded by all honorable men and women, to pray, labor for and sustain the cause of temperance. Has he lived up to the charges he received in becoming a member of church? Has he lived up to his temperance pledge, literally, by abstaining from the use of all and any intoxicating drink, and by persuading others to do so? If so, how comes it that the charge, which to this day remains undisputed, that all, or nearly all the grogshops in his own town, and in perhaps most of all the towns in the district were in his favor, an active interest for him for congress? Unless there is a great misunderstanding about these things these charges are literally true. If so, are not Mr. Brown's friends making practical use of the doctrine that the end justifies the means? And is he so stupid as not to know that a portion of the $25.00.0 that he is charged with using to buy his way into congress is thus used? If he is that model Christian man, that successful money making man he has the credit for, is it not cruelty in his friends to try to uphold him in such a mistaken course? And if a man will buy the votes of others, will he not sell his own for a price? These are serious questions to contemplate, and can Mr. Brown answer them satisfactory, course? If too stupid to know how his money is appropriated is he a fit man to represent 150.000 people in the councils of the nation? But it may be urged that as the election is now over, we should forget these errors, if such were committed, and shake hands across the promise-breaking chasm, and forget the past. To us it don't look that way. And although the election is over, the principles of righteousness are not extinct, nor should those who violate them be permitted to slip without criticism. Toward Mr. Brown we have no ill feelings, but should we be charged with such shortcomings as are publicly attributed to him, we should expect reprehension, and if he is a rich man he should not be above judicious censure.

Denouncing a man as an infidel because he don't belong to some orthodox church, is about as extreme and small an argument as politicians can devise. We notice this charge in papers, managed by editors whose very breath reeks with the fumes of alcohol, and who don't realize the luxury of drawing a sober breath for weeks, against Mr. Woodworth. The fundamental law of the land gives every man the privilege of choosing any religion his conscience dictates, and it is nobody's business. If a man believes in and practices the great principle of doing as he would be done by, and according to all equal rights, no matter whether he be called Christian, Jew, Mthomedan or any other name, it is his privilege to enjoy that belief This bugaboo of calling a man an infidel, if he happens to differ from the crowd is becoming so that it don't scare people worth a cent. Tried by high puritan orthodoxy, Mr. Greeley is an infidel merely because he is a Universalist.

Everybody in this country is familiar with the idea of what constitutes peddlers—men who carry goods from house to house. In dry goods, jewelry and for other useful and ornamental purposes this may all be well, but nowa-days the country has seen a political peddler in the shape of one Greeley, who lately did a swing around the circle. He seemed to be in the retail business, selling out cheap such political items in his behalf as might correspond with the value of tape, pins, needles and such goods. How he expects to get his pay for these notions is more than many people can imagine. The corruption fund in his behalf must be getting low to require him to go in person in the political retail business—and the $25,000 premium is a great way off from him.

The state election of Georgia took place on the 2d inst., and the democrats claim from 40,000 to 50,000 majority. The following circular tells how this result was effected:

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 2, 1871.

Hon. J. M. Edmunds, Chairman Republican committee:—

At the election held to day the Greeley party had full control at all the polls. The managers were all democrats and disregarded the provisions of law, and would not allow republicans entitled by law to cast their votes. After attempting to vote for several hours they abandoned the polls and went home. Over two thousand republican voters were deprived of their right to vote. The good behavior of the colored men only prevented serious trouble. Col. E. Bryant, deputy collector of customs, was seriously assaulted by plug uglies, who had been appointed special deputy sheriffs. The very worst class of the democratic white element were sworn in as special deputy sheriffs. A great outrage upon the rights of citizens has been perpetrated.

The polls were surrounded by a large body of police, armed with muskets. The sabre club patrolled the streets, mounted. This morning the roads leading to the city were picketed, and voters from the country driven back, and not allowed to come into the city and vote. Only four voting places were provided for 8,000 voters in the county, and these all in one building.

H. M. Hall.
Chairman Republican Committee.

That is the sort to shake hands with over the bloody chasm.

Brick Pomeroy's last paper has the following: "Col. Allen asked Greeley if the report was true that in case of an election, one or more cabinet appointments were to be given to democrats?" The reply was rather rough, as Brick has it, but expressive.—"What! me give place in the cabinet to such a lot of d—d villains as have always abused me so? I'd see every democrat in hell first Do you think I'm a d—d fool? I'm not a democrat.

A few days ago the annual election took place in Delaware, a state always democratic from the time to which the memory of man runneth not to the contrary, and the amalgamation party had the magnificent majority of eighty two. Doubtful if they can do as well in November.

The Wheeling Register cackles prematurely over an unhatched Greeley [illegible] in West Virginia.

In addition to the many other sources of wealth, it is now said that coal beds are discovered in California. That state is blessed with many natural advantages which are not common to other states.

Considerable doubt has been expressed as to whether O'Connor has accepted the situation, and become the presidential candidate of the straight-outs. Last Saturday's Democrat (Pomeroy's) says unequivocally that Mr. O'Connor is the candidate of that party,—there is no mistake but that he will run, and John Quincy Adams is candidate for vice president on the same ticket. They will receive some votes, but not enough to elect.

It is reported that Gen. Butler said concerning liberals that there is a phrenologist after them and he divides them into two classes, soreheads and softheads.

Thus far in the political campaign the din of politics has scarcely ceased day or night to agitate our and other communities. So far as we know the warfare, although earnest, and sometimes rather personal, has not been attended here with violence to any extensive degree, though in some localities there may have been a few unfortunate personal conflicts. A commendable regard for each other's differences, and a small sprinkle of Christian charity would obviate all trouble. In less than a month the great national political contest will have been decided, and the newspapers and orators will have other than questions of the state to discuss. Comparative quiet will follow.

The London Times has the following estimate of Greeley:

The character of Mr. Horace Greeley is too well known. His rashness of judgment and his looseness of speech are notorious from end to end of the union. He has faculties which have been of good service to the nation, and may be used again to its advantage, but they must be employed in a sphere far different from that to which he now aspires. The president is the chief magistrate of the American Union, and who can think without a smile of Horace Greeley as a magistrate at all? A man who would be a magistrate should keep a guard upon his tongue: he should be firm in the opinion upon which he has resolved, but he should not form it until he has weighed all that could be urged for or against it: the desire of justice should possess him, and his actions should be ruled by the instinct of self-respect. All this Mr. Greeley is not. He is the very reverse of it. He is defective where he ought to abound, and he abounds where he ought to be defective.

Silent Men.—Washington never made a speech. In the zenith of his fame he once attempted it, failed, and gave it up, confused and abashed. In framing the constitution of the United States, the labor was almost wholly performed in committe of the whole, of which George Washington, was day after day, chairman, and he made but two speeches during the convention, of a very few words each, something like one of Grant's speeches. The convention, however acknowledged the master-spirit, and historians affirm that had it not been for his personal popularity, and the thirty words of his first speech, pronouncing it the best that could be united upon, the constitution would have been rejected by the people. Thomas Jefferson never made a speech. He couldn't do it. Napoleon, whose executive ability is almost without a parallel, said that his greatest difficulty was in finding men of deeds rather than words. When asked how he maintained his influence over his superiors in age and experience when commander in chief of an army in Italy, he said by reserve. The greatness of a man is not measured by the length of his speeches and their number,—Philadelphia Ledger.

A passenger on the Cleveland and Pittsburg express train west on Saturday attempted to leave the train near Verner Station, by dropping off the platform of the rear car while the train was under a very high rate of speed. On striking the track his body performed a series of somersaults, and when aid reached him it was found that the front of his head was badly crushed, and the brains were oozing out. There appeared to be no hope for his recovery, as at last accounts he was sinking rapidly.

The Greeley doctrine of reconciliation is being vigorously enforced upon the attention of the colored people of Kentucky. A day or two ago, Basil Simpson, an old colored man, with his sons, sons-in-law, cows, hogs, horses, and everything they could move, came into Frankfort, the capital of our state, for safety. They say that Ku-klux to number of twenty or thirty visited their homes the night before whipped all of them they could catch, and ordered them to leave within twenty-four hours. These families are sober and industrious, owning the land on which they live in the Bald Knob precinct, about ten miles from the capital, and have crops of tobacco, corn, etc., which they are compelled to abandon for the Ku-klux to use up.

The falling off in the democratic vote in Delaware is attributed, no doubt correctly, to the intense disgust of the old line democrats at the Greeley nomination. It is believed that the republicans will have an easy victory in November.

A very severe hail and wind storm passed over Rocky river and vicinity Sunday afternoon. The storm lasted forty five minutes and the ground was completely covered with hail-stones, some of them of enormous size. One was picked up which measured four inches in circumference. Many fine orchards and vineyards were totally stripped of fruit and foliage and the damages will amount to several hundred dollars.

New York, October 7, 1872.—Henry Campbell has been sentenced to a year's imprisonment and a fine of $500, for mailing improper publications.

Judge Ingraham granted a writ of error in the case of Dr. Rosenzwig, now serving a term in the Auburn prison, to have the general term of the supreme court hear the argument on the exceptions taken by the prisoner's counsel during the trial for causing the death of Miss Bowlsby, by malpractice.

The Tribune says the election of Greeley would be the signal for driving into perpetual retirement all the people who electioneer with money. It is plain that Carl Schurz, Hassaurek, and their kind expect to be provided for life, if Greeley is elected. No more campaign speeches at $200.

The straight outs of Ohio, in their convention at Columbus, did not deal gently with the venerable Horace. The president of the gathering in his speech put this conundrum to his fellow Bourbons: "If we forget and forgive the constant and lying abuse of democrats by Greeley, why not forgive Grant? He has not been half so vicious and constant an abuser of our party as Greeley."

Last Friday was to be a big day for the amalgamation or greeleyerat party at Massillon, as a number of distinguished speakers were promised, and much labor expended to make the show an imposing demonstration The day came, one of the most propitious, pleasant and agreeable days of the year—some of the orators were on hand, but Mr. Hassaurek, the great gun, did not put in his appearance—and the tremendous mass of people were not on hand. When the procession was formed it proved to be the thinnest thing out. In marching the footmen seemed to have no sense of time as they disregarded anything like stepping to the music of the bands. Those on horses, riding in twos, were not less than twenty feet apart, and the wagons, buggies, carriages, &c, were also thinly scattered along the street, so there was no difficulty in counting them. At several points, all that marched, including men, women, and children, the procession was counted, and those who did so unite in making from 750 to 790, or thereabout. What there was of it looked well enough, but it was a pigmy compared with the Canton convention. Very few industries were represented—among them was a dray on which was a big boot representing the shoemakers—a small affair compared with the fine exhibition the shoemakers made in a wagon got up by Mr. George Snyder and others which looked business like, at Canton. Another wagon laden with plows made a good appearance, but beside the half dozen or more wagons loaded with agricultural implements from the shops of Russell & Co. and the Excelsior Works, which were at Canton, it was a little thing. The miners had a large lump of coal, some two tons. A var ed array of banners decorated the procession, with attempted displays of wit and sarcasm—but none of them fatal to republicanism. One was a regular sceesh banner on which the sentiment of state rights was the leading idea. Those emblems of 1863, 1865 and along those dates, which were in flaming letters, Fathers, protect us (the ladies in the wagons) from negro husbands, did not appear, nor did the sentiment. This is a white man's government, manifest itself. The crowd all taken together, was not as big as that representing Massillon at Canton.

Gov. Walker, of Virginia, was the principal speaker on the ground, which was in the grove southwest of town, Mr. W. is a fine looking man, speaks well, and in contrast with Cogswell and others, very genteel, not abusive. From indications beer was well represented at the convention. In the evening a torchlight procession of something over 300 marched about the streets, halting in front o the American, where Walker and others tried to speak but the noise and confusion prevented many from hearing. Some of the speakers indulged in such obscene language as to drive from their hearing not a few who are unused to low vulgarity. Such speakers damage any cause, but many of them well represent Greeley on the stump. The show here was a failure.

Ayer's Ague Cure,
For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

℞ No one remedy is longer called for by the necessities of the American people than a sure and safe cure for Fever and Ague. Such we are now enabled to offer, with a perfect certainty that it will eradicate the disease, and with assurance, founded on proof, that no harm can arise from its use in any quantity.

That which protects from or prevents this disorder must be of immense service in the communities where it prevails. Prevention is better than cure; for the patient escapes the risk which he must run in violent attacks of this baleful distemper. This "CURE" expels the miasmatic poison of Fever and Ague from the system, and prevents the development of the disease, if taken on the first approach of its premonitory symptoms. A great superiority of this remedy over any other ever discovered for the speedy and certain cure of Intermittents is, that it contains no Quinine or mineral; consequently it produces no quinism or other injurious effects whatever upon the constitution. Those cured by it are left as healthy as if they had never had the disease.

Fever and Ague is not alone the consequence of the miasmatic poison. A great variety of disorders arise from its irritation, among which are Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Headache, Blindness, Toothache, Earache, Catarrh, Asthma, Palpitation, Painful Affection of the Spleen, Hysterics, Pain in the Bowels, Colic, Paralysis, and derangement of the Stomach, all of which, when originating in this cause, put on the intermittent type, or become periodical. This "CURE" expels the poison from the blood, and consequently cures them all alike. It is an invaluable protection to immigrants and persons travelling or temporarily residing in the malarious districts. If taken occasionally or daily while exposed to the infection, that will be excreted from the system, and cannot accumulate in sufficient quantity to ripen into disease. Hence it is even more valuable for protection than cure; and few will ever suffer from Intermittents if they avail themselves of the protection this remedy affords.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity, and producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines fail.

OLD THINGS HAVE PASSED AWAY.

This is at least true of the old method of treating the long abused and much abused human body. It is no longer considered wise to put a patient to torture in order to cure him of a disease in which pain is already undermining the energies of his system. True science ranges itself on the side of nature and endeavors to assist her in her her fight against disease. This is the province of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the most approved tonic ever advised in this country. It may be recommended as a fair medicine, par excellence; for it is in the fall that bili usness, dyspepria and malarious fevers are especially prevalent. The frame exhausted by the heats of summer, is relaxed and feeble at its close, and requires, we may say demands, artificial assistance Afford it that assistance in occasional doses of Hostetter's Bitters, and the evils referred to may be escaped. Throughout the far west, and on the steaming alluvial of the southern rivers, all the varieties of periodical fever are probably rife to day. Had a course of Hostetter's Bitters been commenced by the sufferers a month ago, i. e., before the unhealthy season set in, seven-eighths of them would in all probability be in their usual health at the present time. So much for want of foresaste. So much for not keeping in the house, and using daily, the best safeguard against epidemic and epidemic fevers

As flocks of imposters and imitators are trying to follow in the wake of the great American remedy, therefore be sure that the article you buy is genuine and verified by the proper trade marks. The true article can only be obtained in bottles. Beware of the spurious bitters sold by the gallon or in keg.

Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

SIZE OF PELLETS.

Or Sugar-Coated, Concentrated, Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Medicine in Parvo Physic.

The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical and Pharmaceutical Science. No use of any longer taking the large, repulsive and nauseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients, when we can by a careful application of chemical science, extract all the cathartic and other medicinal properties from the most valuable roots and herbs, and concentrate them into a minute Granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by those of the most sensitive stomachs and fastidious tastes. Each little Purgative Pellet presents, in a most concentrated form, as much cathartic power as is embodied in any of the large pills found for sale in the drug shops. From their wonderful cathartic power, in proportion to their size, people who have but tried them are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic in effect, which is not at all the case, the different active medicinal principles of which they are composed being so harmonized and modified, one by the others, as to produce a most searching and thorough, yet gentle and kindly operating cathartic.

$500 Reward is hereby offered by the proprietor of these Pellets, to any chemist who, upon analysis, will find in them any Calomel or other forms of mercury or any other mineral poison.

Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate with distinctness to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Fightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, High Colored Urine, Unsociability and Gloomy Forebodings, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of my Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, I wish to say that their action upon the digestive economy is entirely universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their salutive impress. Ago does not impair them; their sugar-coating, as it being enclosed in glass bottles preserve their virtues unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable, which is not the case with the pills found in the drug stores put up in cheap wood or paste-board boxes. Recollect that for all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative or Purgative is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction to all who use them.

They are sold by all enterprising Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

Do not allow any druggist to induce you to take anything else that he may say is just as good as my Pellets, because he makes a larger profit on that which he recommends. If your druggist cannot supply them, enclose 25 cents and receive them by return mail from

On Monday evening the light of a burning building was seen north of town, perhaps a little distance in the country. The fire bells were rung, and we suppose the companies went to the scene of action. At this time—Monday evening—we have no particulars.—Later. We are informed that a barn formerly the property of Mr Paul, but now belonging to Mr Grant, in the north part of town, was burned to the ground—nothing saved. The firemen were there, but too late to save anything except a cornerib. At this time we have no particulars as to the amount of loss sustained. As to how the fire originated we have received no information, but things look suspicious.

Most of the townships heard from in Stark county give republican gains, so it is safe for Grant Lexington did gloriously. Brown badly beaten.

Stockholders of Massillon Driving Park are hereby notified that the Stock Certificates are now ready to be delivered to those holding receipts in full for amount subscribed. All transfers must be made in person and the same duly recorded on the books of the association. J. E. BROWN, Sec'y.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of this week our theater going people have been enjoying themselves in visiting the opera house and witnessing the presentation of various dramas, performed by several ladies and gentlemen who came among us highly commended for their ability in this difficult and much admired art.

FUN AHEAD.—Alf Burnett will be at the Opera House Friday and Saturday evenings next.

Those desiring to have grocery stands on the fair grounds during the fair should call at once on J. E. Brown, Sec'y., and procure permits.

Alf Burnett, the greatest among fun makers—an unrivaled delineater of characters—will visit us, we are assured, and present his comicalities to our people in the opera house on next Friday and Saturday evenings To add attractiveness to his already world wide fame as an exciter to amusement, he will be accompanied by a lady and gentleman who will charm the audience with rare and choice music. It has been years since Mr. B. favored us with a visit, and all who saw him when here have distinct recollections of the rare ability with which his efforts were crowned; and they are anxious to see him again. So there will be no trouble as to a full house.

Time and space did not permit us last week to give all, or even a fraction of the particulars in regard to the great political demonstration at Canton on the 30th ult, and especially did we wish to give a more detailed account of the important part which Massillon contributed. Not less than a thousand of our people were present. It is now too late to make a note of the particulars in these columns and especially as our neighbors have done so. The day, although the weather was threatning and ominous of rain, did not prevent many thousands meeting at the capital, and thus making it a memorable era in the history of Stark county, and Canton in particular

In going over to Canton the other day a large wagon, chartered by Messrs. Smith Bowman & Co., and the Hess Bros., had a lot of tin ware marked Grant cups and Greeley cups. The first named had substantial bottoms, the others were bottomless—a good emblem of Greeleyism.

FUN AHEAD.—Alf Barnett will be at the Opera house Friday and Saturday evenings next.

The two tanneries of this place, one owned by J. D Bothwell the other by Yost & Bro., were represented in a handsome and appropriately decorated wagon with the ex pressive sign, Greeley hides tanned here.

Last Sunday was a very busy time among our politicians. Some of the grogshops of Greeley politics were in full blast, so we are told, and probably did a good business.

No less than three printing presses were at the Canton demonstration on the 30th ult.,—two belonging to the Rep and Rep, and the other to this office. And they were at work throwing out light. Nothing of the kind at last Friday's show here.

Last Friday night our efficient marshal escorted five lodgers to the calaboose on account of their drunkenness and rowdyism A report was out that four of them were for Greeley and one for Grant when they were put in, but on the next morning when the marshal took them out, a gentleman who was not far off said they all hurrahed for Greeley and Brown—both Browns it is supposed.

Another joke is let loose as to the Greeley-rat meeting last Friday. It is said that the big boot that was hauled on a dray, from Canton, and made part of the procession here, belonged to a Grant man of that city and was sly taken without his consent.

PRESENTATION OF A VALUABLE CANE.—John Vogt, president of the Massillon Frohsin, presented Jacob Henry, Director of the Frohsin, in the name of the members thereof with a very valuable cane as a token of esteem for Mr. Henry's labor and interest, which he has exhibited for many years, and since the late singers festival at Wooster, O., where different singing societies met the Massillon Frohsin, where they could appreciate their director, since then so much more; and, really, every Massillon citizen present there could have been proud of their fellow citizen singers there. MANY SINGERS.

The Banner of Light, Boston, in recently announcing its 32d volume came out dressed in entirely new type, thus vastly improving its neat and tidy appearance—though it has always been a model in that way. A J Davis, a voluminous and popular writer, has commenced publishing a series of articles entitled the Harmonial Encyclopedia. He takes a word or phrase, and discusses it in the style peculiar to his philosophy, and although some may think him visionary and erratic, he often gives beautiful expression to many good ideas. The Banner gives evidence of a state of prosperity.

FUN AHEAD.—Alf Burnett will be at the Opera House Friday and Saturday evenings next.

It should be a gratifying fact to a large portion of our citizens that the Y M C A rooms are open for reading every evening of the week—also, Sunday afternoons. Many of our young men would do well to visit those pleasant rooms for instruction.

The increasing facilties for transportation by way of railroads to and from this place, in addition to that grand thoroughfare, the Ohio Canal, are in a fair way to make Massillon one of the best locations for manufacturing establishments in this part of the country. An increase of the iron business will be one of the best paying investments to capitalists to be found. All men in active business appreciate the vast importance of railroad and canal communication with other localities, and Massillon being peculiarly favored in this respect must soon become a center of rapidly increasing manufacturing facilities, especially in the matter of iron. Important as are these advantages to the growth of city, however, they are not the greatest in behalf of Massillon as a place for the iron interest, for nature, developed by art, presents the greatest bases for rapid prosperity in this direction. Here the earth is filled with coal, lime in vast quantities abounds, ores of different kinds can be procured at a very limited increase of expense by transportation—these are the chief elements in the making of iron. The furnaces here are now sources of rapidly increasing wealth to their proprietors, and what seems to be especially needed to put iron in a shape to be consumed by the wealthy community surrounding us is a rolling mill. Thousands of tuns must be transfered elsewhere before it can be transformed into suitable shape to be made useful for manufacturers who need vast quantities of this article. Closely connected with rolling mills are nail mills, boiler works and numerous other branches of useful industries. Capitalists whose money is not bringing them a very heavy percentage of profit in the way of speculation or interest might enhance their already large estates by vastly increased dividends, were they to unite either in establishing or aiding others to erect a good rolling mill. For months, and even years, these things have been discussed here but no action taken which has resulted in practical utility. These suggestions are made in the hope that practical men among us may be induced to present their views in this important question, and thus being into action the undeveloped resources by which we are surrounded.

FUN AHEAD.—Alf Burnett will be at the Opera House Friday and Saturday evenings next.

Among many of the noteworthy points in Henry Wilson's speech here, is, that he is a square out woman's rights man, and makes no concealment of the fact, but utters it so that the nation may hear. This is one of the noblest of his characteristics, that his candor prompts him to uphold principles which his excellent judgment approves. He is also a decided temperance man, not going about spending money at grogshops in order to purchase votes. As to the charge that Gen. Grant is a drunkard, he denies it squarely. In his every day life he represents the president as an exemplary man. Go to his house at any time, in the evening, and there the visitor will find him at home with his wife and children. Is such a man a bad person?

Last Saturday evening a republican meeting was held at Fulton, which for enthusiasm, numbers and success proved are unprecedented demonstration in that place. A train of three or four cars went from here, conveying some hundreds of voters, who with those they met from other places, made a larger number of people than were here last Friday A grand torchlight procession of 500 or 600 lights paraded the streets, making a gay appearance. Addresses were made by Mr. Woodworth, who spoke with his usual candor and ability, Mr. Wales, of this place, Mr. Fassett of Hubbard, editor the Miners Journal, and R. H. Folger, Esq. of this place. All who were present report the meeting a grand success.

Much has been said and printed in these columns commending the coming fair, and an interest seems to be warmed up in its behalf which is increasing daily as the time for action approaches. The managers are doing all they can to insure success, and by the 15th inst, it is hoped, will have matured everything necessary to complete such arrangements as are indispensable to insure it to meet the expectations of its many sanguine friends. A unity of purpose is all that is required. Beside the many attractive features the Excelsior Works will have a steam engine on the ground—something which will be well worth seeing. Then the fine horses will be another source of attraction to a great many people. So let all come to see what is to be presented.

The Iron City College, of Pittsburgh, is now the most extensively patronized business college in the United States. It is everywhere regarded as the best school of the kind in existence.

FUN AHEAD.—Alf Burnett will be at the Opera House Friday and Saturday evenings next.

THE NEW FAMILY SINGER SEWING MACHINE

The undersigned has opened rooms for the sale of this celebrated Sewing Machine, three doors north from McLain, Dangler & Co's store, Erie street, Massillon, O., where he intends to keep on hand a full assortment of Sewing Machines, needles, attachments, and findings for all machines. Silks and threads of best quality.

This NEW FAMILY MACHINE is capable of a range and variety of work such as was thought impossible to perform by machinery. We claim and can show that it is the cheapest, most beautiful, delicately arranged, nicely adjusted, easily operated, and smoothly running of all family sewing machines. It is remarkable not only for the range and variety of its sewing, but also for the variety and different kinds of texture which it will sew with equal facility and perfection, using silk twist, linen or cotton thread, fine or coarse, making the interlocked elastic stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewn. Thus, beaver cloth, or leather, may be sewn with great strength and uniformity of stitch; and, in a moment, this willing and never wearying instrument may be adjusted for fine work on gauze or gossamer tissue, or the tucking of tarlatan, or ruffling, or almost any other work which delicate fingers have been known to perform.

Purchasers wishing to buy a machine are requsted to call and examine our prices &c., before purchasing elsewhere.

Is now treating successfully CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, and all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, with his Compound Medicated Inhalations, Concentrated Food and Cough Syrup.

During the past ten years Dr. Carpenter has treated and cured thousands of cases of the above named diseases, and has now in his possession certificates of cures from every part of the country. Under the influence of my remedies, the cough soon grows easier, the night sweats cease, the hectic flush vanishes, and with improving digestion the patient rapidly gains strength, and health is again within his grasp.

The concentrated food rapidly builds up the most debilitated patient, presenting to the stomach food all ready to be assimilated and made into good, rich, healthy blood

The cough syrup is to be taken at night to alleviate the cough and enable the patient to obtain sleep Full directions accompany each box of my remedies, which consists of

Mr. Charles Lenox Remond, of Boston, who is widely known as an able and intelligent colored man, has written a private letter to a friend in Providence in which he says: "Notwithstanding the complicated and somewhat perplexing condition of politics at the present moment, with us, it seems to me, our duty is at once simple and easy. Narrowed down, the question is whether we shall vote for Grant or Greeley next November. My vote will be given unqualifiedly and unhesitatingly for Gen. Grant and the republican administration, with its noble record of emancipation, justice and equality, as against Horace Greeley, the compromiser and colonizationist, surrounded by and at this moment fraternizing with ex-rebels,' ex-slaveholders and negro-hating democrats, who hold the damnable doctrine, 'That this is the white man's country and the white man's government.' Living, I will vote against the hateful sentiment, and dying, my curse shall rest upon it. In the event of a change of the administration, I have every reason to fear the effect would be disastrous to the colored man's interest in every department of the government and throughout the country."

The N. Y. Tribune of Nov 29, 1870, made the following boastful declaration of its chief political virtue, to wit:

The Cincinnati Commercial will be good enough to inform its readers that there is no office in the universe that would be any inducement to Horace Greeley to forego or postpone his advocacy of Protection to home industry."

"The happiest of pillows," says Percles, "is not that which love first presses; it is that which death has frowned on, and passed over."

'The verb to love,' says a wicked French writer, "is an active verb, which runs until it sinks exhausted in to the easy-chair of marriage."

One Missouri editor says of another, that "his ears would do for awnings to a ten story wholesale hog packing establishment."

The best reason for not supporting a certain candidate is that given by a poor Georgia editor, who says that he has as much as he can do to support himself.

"Driver are you running on time to day?" asked a passenger in an omnibus "No, sir," was the keen reply, "we are running for cash."

Holloway's Pills and Ointment are the only medicinal preparations necessary in families. The Pills regulate all the internal organs with unerring certainty; the Ointment is a positive antidote in all external diseases. Sold 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price [illegible] per box or pot. Ask for new style; the old is counterfeited.

Beautiful Women.—The hair is the crowning glory of woman. There are few disordered defects which cannot be remedied by the proper disposition of the tresses. But when the hair begins to fall out, or turn gray, in young people, or with those in the prime of life, there is cause for real regret. When this is the case, Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer will be found to be a first class remedy, far superior, as a sound medical medium, to anything else before the public. It actually restores gray hair to its original color, and in the great majority of cases, causes it to grow again when it is becoming thin. It is not like many popular preparations, a mere wash, but a scientific discovery, in used and used by physicians of character. Address R. P. Hall & Co., Nashua, N. H.

Careless Calamity.—The man who lingers along the ways of life, full of aches and pains, his breast with flying stitches, his right side dull and heavy, his heart driving the blood like a projectile through the arteries and veins, with occasional spitting of blood, with too much expectoration of mucus, aching pains in the back and soreness of the limbs, may rest assured that he is bringing on himself a useless evil, if he lets it run on without proper effort to get well.

These symptoms are evidence of a sadly deranged state of the general health, which, unless remedied, will go on until the whole body crumbles into ruin. Next come on the creeping chills, night sweats, the cough, and sleepless nights and dreary days, full of pain and suffering. How many a consumptive has had one or more of these warnings, and allowed them to pass unheeded, when a bottle or two of Dr. Keyser's Lung cure would have swept the disease from the system and restored health.

Dr Keyser's Lung Cure is the elixer of life to all those whose blood is deprived and whose pulmonary diseases are cropping forward, as manifested in signs like those enumerated above, even in the last stages it has arrested the disease, and restored the suffering invalid to health and renewed life. $1,50 per bottle. four bottles $5, at 167 Liberty st. Pittsburgh.

The Invalid.—A Pen Picture.—See her pallid countenance, but a short time ago the picture of ruddy health, the envy of the school and the pride of the household. She was always welcomed by her schoolmates, for her lithe form and pleasing disposition carried cheerfulness into their ranks. Diligent, punctual and exemplary, obedient and graceful at home, she won the hearts of all. But alas, we are sorrowed. Those rosy cheeks and ruddy lips are blanched by consumption. The voice once so enchanting in laugh and song is feeble, husky and supplanted by a hollow cough. Let us approach her couch gently and take her hand. Don't shudder because of the feeble and passionless grasp. The hand once so hearty and plump is emaciated and shows bony outlines, while the cords are tortuous veins are painfully cropped upon the surface. The pulse that bounded with repletion, carrying vigor to the whole system and imparting life, beauty vivacity, health and strength, is delicate to the touch. The feeble heart can not propel the thin, scanty blood with force. Must we lose her while yet in her teens? Companions and friends gather around with words of cheer and consolation. Must we lose her? No! There is relief take this pleasant medicine. It is invigorating. How it allays the irritating cough, improves the appetite and digestion and sends a healthy tingle through the frame. The blood is enriched, nervous force increased, and the heart bounds with a new impulse. See her face brighten by degrees; the color is returning, her voice is getting clearer, and pleasant words are spoken. Her strength falters yet but is gaining. Let us take her out in the warm sunshine. In a short time she will be able to go without our aid, a cheerful girl. This delightful medicine must be God's blessing. She is emerging from her sickness sweeter and nobler than before, and Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery must have the credit. It has raised her. Sold by all first class druggists.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN JURUBEBA BLOOD PURIFIER

It is not a physic which may give temporary relief to the sufferer for the first few doses, but which from continued use brings piles and kindred diseases to aid in weakening the invalid, nor is it a doctored liquor, which, under the popular name of bitters is so extensively palmed off on the public as sovereign remedies, but is a most powerful tonic and alterative, pronounced so by the leading medical authorities of London and Paris, and has been long used by the regular physicians of other countries with wonderful remedial results.

Dr Wells' Extract of Jurubeba retains all the medicinal virtues peculiar to the plant and must be taken as a permanent curative agent.

Is there want of action in your liver and spleen? Unless relieved at once, the blood becomes impure by deleterious secretions, producing scrofulous or skin diseases, felons, blotches, pustules, canker, &c.

Take Jurubeba to cleanse, purify and restore the vitiated blood to healthy action.

Have you a dyspeptic stomach? Unless digestion is promptly aided the system in debilitated with loss of vital force, poverty of the blood, dropsical tendency, general weakness or lassitude.

Have you weakness of the intestines? You are in danger of chronic diarrhœa or the dreadful inflammation of the bowels.

Take it to allay irritation and ward off tendency to inflammations

Have you weakness of the Uterine or urinary organs? You must procure instantly relief or you are liable to suffering worse than death.

Take it to strengthen organic weakness or life becomes a burden.

Finally it should be frequently taken to keep the system in perfect health or you are otherwise in great danger of malarial, miasmatic or contagious diseases.

Ayer's

Sarsaparilla

Is widely known as one of the most effectual remedies ever discovered for cleansing the system and purifying the blood. It has stood the test of years, with a constantly growing reputation, based on its intrinsic virtues, and sustained by its remarkable cures. So mild as to be safe and beneficial to children, and yet so searching as to effectually purge out the great corruptions of the blood, such as the scrofulous and syphilitic contamination. Impurities or diseases that have lurked in the system for years soon yield to this powerful antidote, and disappear. Hence its wonderful cures, many of which are publicly known, of Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Ulcers, Eruptions, and eruptive disorders of the skin, Tumors, Blotches, Boils, Pimples, Pustules, Sores, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, and internal Ulcerations of the Uterus, Stomach, and Liver. It also cures other complaints, to which it would not seem especially adapted, such as Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Piles, Neuralgia, Heart Disease, Female Weakness, Debility, and Leucorrhœa, when they are manifestations of the scrofulous poisons.

It is an excellent restorer of health and strength in the Spring. By renewing the appetite and vigor of the digestive organs, it dissipates the depression and listless languor of the season. Even where no disorder appears, people feel better, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. The system moves on with renewed vigor and a new lease of life.

CELEBRATED

Horse and Cattle Powders.

This preparation, long and favorably known, will thoroughly re-invigorate broken down and low-spirited horses, by strengthening and cleansing the stomach and intestines.

It is a sure preventive of all diseases incident to this animal, such as LUNG FEVER, GLANDERS, YELLOW WATER, HEAVES, COUGHS, DISTEMPER, FLYERS, FOUNDER, LOSS OF APPETITE AND VITAL ENERGY, &c. Its use limproves the wind, increases the appetite—gives a smooth and glossy skin—and transforms the miserable skeleton into a fine-looking and spirited horse

To keepers of Cows this preparation is invaluable. It is a sure preventive against Rinderpest, Hollow Horn, etc. It has been proven by actual experiment to increase the quantity of milk and cream twenty per cent. and make the butter firm and sweet. In fattening cattle, it gives them an appetite, loosens their hide, and makes them thrive much faster.

In all diseases of Swine, such as Coughs, Ulcers in the Lungs, Liver, &c., this article acts as a specific. By putting from one-half a paper to a paper in a barrel of swill the above diseases will be eradicated or entirely prevented. If given in time, a certain preventive and cure for the Hog Cholera.

A REGULAR GRADUATE OF MEDICINE, AS DIPLOMA at office will show, has been long engaged in the treatment of Venereal, Sexual and Private Diseases than any other physician in Pittsburg.

Spermatorrhœa, Sexual Debility and Impotency, as the result of self-abuse in youth, sexual excesses in mature years, or other causes, and which produce some of the following effects, as nocturnal emissions, blotches, debility, dizziness, dimness of sight, confusion of ideas, evil forebodings, aversion to society of females, loss of memory and sexual power rendering marriage improper, are permanently cured. Sealed pamphlet relating to above sent for two stamps. Call or write, a friendly talk costs nothing. Medicine sent everywhere. It is self evident that a physician who treats thousands of cases every year acquires skill. Country physicians knowing this frequently recommend persons to my care.

MANHOOD:

How Lost How Restored.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of spermatorrhœa, or seminal weakness, involuntary seminal losses, impotency physical and mental incapacity, impediments to marriage, etc.; also consumption, epilepsy and fits, induced by self indulgence or sexual extravagance.

☞Price in a sealed envelope, 6 cents.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land

Sent, under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, postpaid, on receipt of six cents or two post stamps.

Also, Dr. Culverwell's Marriage Guide, Price 25 cents. Address the publishers!
